-Formal request for a reduction in sentence, formally known as, "compassionate release" pursuant to 18 U.S.C. 3582(c)(1)(A)
As a direct result of putative harm received from Coronavirus, COVID 19.

Back in and around April 2020, Sweet unfortunately ran afoul of the novel Covid 19 virus due to the blatant disregard for inmate and staff health and safety at the FCI Milan Federal Bureau Of Prisons located in Milan MI 48160, he promulgates the following criteria that fits the Center For Disease Control's definition of an extraordinary and compelling reason to justify early release thereby.

Roger is 72 years young and was hospitalized with a near death experience to include irregular heart rhythm that was a direct result of the novel disease. But Roger does not maintain the ability to care for himself, since he is in the custody of the Federal Government and can only do what he is told. He has a plethora of co-morbidities, older age, has served a tremendous amount of time for his conviction so long ago, and poses no danger whatsoever to the community therein. He was sentenced twice for the same underlying conduct that should give rise to a ripe double jeopardy claim, but is out of time with respect to the procedural aspects of the federal court.

With that being said, he has absolutely known incidents whatsoever, perfect conduct in the State and Feds and a reduction should be warranted accordingly. He has programmed, reformed his past history adducing what would not be a hindrance on society's outlook on prisoners. The medical problems only complex the issue at hand here, because he is living in a facility that is materially misrepresenting the true nature of the outbreak and reporting low numbers to Congress and the Judiciary, wholly inconsistent with the Constitutional constraints thereof.

At this particular juncture, he respectfully request a reduction in sentence, albeit compassionately. See 18 U.S.C 3582(C)(1)(A).

Very truly Yours,

  12-3-20

Robert Sweet
